Stuph & Thangs

NO TIME FOR TOO MANY RETREADS...

MOVING? Please use form inside paper and give full information. Mailing list is run on Friday for following week.

While you & me await the organization of the Reagan Administration which takes the steering wheel of the Ship of State come Jan. 20 there has to be some business over the large numbers of former aides of President Ford and President Nixon, who are makin' news and sendin' up trial balloons in planning the Transition.

It is to be fervently hoped that Reagan will not over-lead the apparatus with too many of these retreads from former Republican Administrations. If this turns out to be the case we can well find our Govt's business in about as big a week as was the Carter machine when it got loaded up with consumer advocates, no growth advocates, and would be public enemies of the Ralph Nader type who know they know what is best for us and, by golly, undertake to feed it to us.

Battle Lines Drawn Between American Bankers Assn., Farm Credit System on Proposed Amendments to Credit Act

One of the really thorny problems which will face incoming Reagan Administration forces and the new Congress next year will be the proposed amendments to the regulations concerning the Farm Credit System and the American Bankers Association. ABA spokesmen have mounted an attack on the amendments which would enable the Production Credit Associations, Federal Intermediate Credit Banks and some other financial institutions or OFI's largely smaller banks such as those members of the Independent Bankers Association of America to compete more vigorously with the larger banks for agricultural loans at rates that are usually two to three percentage points lower than most commercial banks can or do offer.

Fed Cattle Prices Lower at Most Markets Monday, Hogs Firm, Higher

At the central markets on Monday fed cattle prices were mixed, but mostly tending lower as the dressed beef trade opened under pressure. Slaughter cows were lower and bulls steady to lower. Hog prices were mainly steady to a trifle higher, however some points reported lower rates. Receipts of slaughter cattle were a little lower and hog receipts were up about 2,500 head. Estimated Monday cattle kill at 119,000 was 25,000 over last week and 4,000 a year ago. Monday's hog kill estimated at 303,000 was 55,000 over last week and 1,000 higher than a year earlier. Fed cattle prices were still depressed by overdone 4 & 5 grade cut, which are represented in the low end of quotations. Price trends, quotations on choice and prime fed steers and heifers and the mixed good and choice grades and on good and choice Holsteins, and U.S. 1-3 hogs selling mostly 200 to 270 pounds included:

OMAHA fed cattle weak to 25-50c lower. Steers $41.50 to $45 and $43.25 to $44.25. Heifers $40 to $42.50 and $40 to $41.50. Hogs firm to 25c higher at $45.25 to $46.25. SIOUX CITY fed cattle steady to 50c off. 4's & 5's 50c to $1 lower. Steers $38.50 to $40. Hogs 60c to $1 higher at $45-46.75. ST. PAUL fed steers and heifers steady to 50c higher and Holsteins steady. Steers $41.50 to $44.50 and $42 to $43.10. Holsteins $38.50 to $40.50. Heifers $41.50 to $42.50 and $40 to $41.50. Hogs steady to 50c higher at $45 to $46. SIOUX FALLS fed cattle steady to 25-50c lower. Steers $32 to $34.50 and $32.50 to $34. Holsteins $38 to $41. Hogs 50-75c higher at $44.50 to $46.75. JOLIET fed cattle 50c to $1 lower. Steers $33.50 to $36 and $33 to $34. Holsteins $30 to $32.50. Heifers $32.50 to $33.75 and $31 to $32.50. Hogs steady at $46 to $48. by force, if necessary.
We've been down that road before and what most of the people in these United States voted for in the election was a change of direction, and not another trip down the bunny road we enjoyed before the Carter years. After all, these were not what most of us consider the Good Ol' Days.

AVOID CHANGING WELL LEATHERS FOR MANY YEARS

Perma-cups are molded urethane, more wear resistant than nylon. Perma-cups will outlast leather 10 to 1. Their tapered design allows only 1/8" wearing, instead of 5/8" of a leather. Much less friction for easier pumping extends cylinder life greatly. Perma-cups must be used in a good or new cylinder, as they do not swell. Install Urethane Perma-cups, Urethane Check-balls, and Urethane Pump Rod-guides, and don't pull that well for many years. Thousands of wells that have not been released in 9 years! All are available in standard cylinder and pipe sizes. Write or call for our catalog. We ship same day order is received. This is our 30th year serving ranchers.

It should be possible to attack the waste and inflationary problems, as well as those of energy, welfare, health care, and hoardings, without cutting essentials and without putting unnecessary hardship on people who do not deserve it. If the billions of dollars that are being propped off today are put into the right places, no one is gonna fuss too much about the cost.

For instance, it is a crying shame that our people in military service are so poorly paid they have to have food stamps and other kinds of welfare to eke out a living. Food stamps would be a good start to trim waste since they are used to support college students, strikers and there is admitted waste running into the millions through duplication and over-eager bureaucrats pushing 'em. Strikers are exercising economic stress on employers, why should the government take sides in an economic fight?

The list of abuses of essential services is endless. For instance, there have been countless instances of unsavory millions collected by medical interests in Medicare and Medicaid, and if you have ever seen some of the gobbledygook the bureaucrats give honest doctors and technicians to try to figure out, you can understand what a mess these things are in. These are just for starters and if the Reagan people really want to save billions of wasted dollars they have a lot of fertile fields to plow.

Meanwhile, we hope all of those Nixon-Ford Exes are just around to show the Washington ropes to the newcomers and will not infest the Administration too much. Otherwise, we'll have a mess on par with the last one.

Ever think,
The Editor.

P.S.: Uncle Dunk says those rumors that Texas Sen. John Tower is headed for Secretary of Defense and that John Connally will be appointed to fill Tower's seat in the Senate by Texas Gov. Bill Clements looks like a typical Texas political wishbone flicker-flick. Could be. Dunk hears from our Georgia spokesman that the success Jimmy Carter has raising money for his Library at Georgia Tech will give him and us some inkling as to whether he will take to the political hustings down the line a way. Dunk reminds one & all to keep jolting your congressmen and senators. That Nov. 4 job was fine, but keep reminding 'em. Read some of the comments from Connally.

Battle Lines Drawn (CONT. FROM PAGE 1A)

Willie W. Alexander accused the Farm Credit Administration of seeking to monopolize agricultural lending in their push to get congressional approval of the proposed 19 amendments. Alexander charged the amendments were aimed at "a nationwide quasi-governmental banking system offering all types of loans at below market rates not only to farmers but potentially to all classes and types of bank customers."

R. Modero said the amendments would enable smaller banks and the cooperative banks to compete in financing export-import business. A field office in the Midwest has been increasingly attractive to farmers and ranchers interested in gaining access to such trade outside the virtual monopoly now enjoyed by a few large international commodity traders.

Some bankers have reported threats from Farm Credit System organizations, including some Production Credit Association, to encourage customers to withdraw money from accounts in banks which oppose the amendments. This charge was denied Farm Credit Administration and Federal Intermediate Credit Bank spokesmen. Jack Barton, president of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Texas stated he never heard "and I would have heard" of PCA or PCA members deposits being withdrawn from commercial banks over the issue. Speaking before more than 1000 agricultural bankers attending the ABA's National Agricultural Banking Conference, Alexander said that the bill (H.R. 7548), to be brought before the "house" Congress, would "formally and finally create a nationwide banking entity exempt from any discipline of its monetary policy impact, exempt from most forms of taxation, exempt from the consumer protection and disclosure laws that we (bankers) live with."

Alexander identified Credit Agricole in France as the only other institution in the world like the Farm Credit System.

"Last year it had a tax-exempt income of $400 million... It dominates farm finance in France to the virtual exclusion of all other lenders. By the time Credit Agricole finally was granted deposit taking powers, most commercial bankers in France agreed that there was nothing that they could do to catch up with it," Alexander asserted.

"The Farm Credit System intends to become the American Credit Agricole," he charged. "This bill would let it begin taking deposits overseas... clearly a prelude to domestic deposit taking. An American Credit Agricole is something we cannot live with - a nationwide quasi-government banking system, offering all types of loans often at below-market rates not only to farmers but to all classes and types of bank customers."

The major amendments call for these changes:

- Reduction of minimum voting control of a cooperative from 80 percent to 70 percent in the case of rural utility cooperatives - held by farmers, aquatic producers or harvesters or other cooperatives, 80 percent to make the cooperative eligible for loans from bank for cooperatives.
- Authorize banks for cooperative (BCs) to finance exports of agricultural and aquatic products by U.S. Cooperatives. This section would provide BCs would not acquire greater power than commercial banks.
- Authorize federal land banks (FLBs) and PCAs to make loans to finance basic processing and marketing directly related to farming, ranching or aquaculture operations. Such a loan would be made only if the applicant's operation supplied at least 20 percent of the amount of commodity to be processed or marketed, meaning that other producers could add commodity to the operation, too. Hence, cooperatives could take advantage of this financing.
- Authorize BCs to finance foreign domestic parties in transactions with cooperatives, to facilitate cooperative export-import operations. Export and import would be included in the financing capabilities. Processing could be financed if the end product was to be exported.
- Authorize BCs to maintain credit balances for foreign customers.
- Authorize BCs to participate in ownership of foreign companies to obtain credit information and other export-import services.
- Authorize Federal Intermediate Credit Banks (FICBs), which already supply funds to PCAs and OFIs and banks through participations with PCAs, to open its loan services to smaller banks with major lending in agriculture. OFIs would have some broad discount privileges with FICBs restricted.
- Exempt CFCIS units from state usury laws. Most CFCIS units already are exempt from state usury laws.

American farmers have boosted their corn production from 4.7 billion bushels in 1975 to 7.8 billion bushels in 1979. That's an increase of 65 percent in four years, according to Sperry New Holland.

SANTA GERTRUDIS NEWS

SANTA CIRCUIT

by Buddy Smith

The Blackwater Farms Fifth Annual Invitational "Heart of Dixie" Sale, Calhoun, Alabama, was one of the top sales of the fall. 74 head grossed $198,700.00 to average $2,687.84. High selling bull was 0077, a July 77 son of the Cosgrove "10" bull, consigned by Cosgrove Ranches. He sold to David Abrahamson of Pinson, Alabama, for $19,000.00. High selling female was a Chaparral Ranch female calf at side going to Butler Farms of Chatsworth, Georgia, for $9,000.00. Cattle sold into Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Iowa, Mississippi, Missouri, Ohio, Oklahoma, Texas and Virginia. The active bidding and full house indicated a strong demand for Santas.

In the 1979 "Heart of Dixie" sale several of the offerings were bought to put on the show road. One of these was a bull calf at the side of his dam sold by Doyle May to Howdyshell & Jones of Ohio. He has been a consistent class winner as a Junior Yearling, and recently won Reserve Champion bull honors at Shreveport, Louisiana.

Several of the calves at side were purchased for the same reason. One of the top prospects was a heifer calf sold at the side of her dam out of Cosgrove "10" in Pat Reeves of Nashville, Arkansas.

That old confirmed bachelor from Oak Texas, Bill Amis has finally made his bid. He became engaged to Donna Bando. In my opinion, he really "picked the litter."

Recently I had the opportunity to eat steak and spend the night at the Ghetto. For those of you that don't know where the Ghetto is, it's the "Redneck Ghetto" owned by R. W. "Redneck" Ferrell out of Rolling Fork, Mississippi. Mr. Ferrell farms and ranches on the banks of the Mississippi River. He is the Sale Chairman for the Delta Santa Gertrudis Association Sale which will be held February 18th in conjunction with the Dixie National Show. Mr. Ferrell had asked me to come by and pick whatever I wanted for the sale. If all of the consignors take this attitude, it should be one of the top sales of the year.

Bob and Kathy White are expecting a baby any time now. From the looks of things they are going to have twins, or a boy with the bone and scale of the cattle they are producing. Congratulations to Bob and Kathy.

There are three nominated sales coming up in February. They are the Delta Santa Gertrudis Association Sale in Jackson, Mississippi, on February 18th; the Mid-Coast Super Sale and the All Pull Sale to be held in Houston on February 28th. If you haven't already sent your entries in, do it today. Send them to Superior Sales, Rt. 2, Box 345, Rustonville, TX 77840.

Now is the time for the various affiliate associations to be thinking about who they will nominate for their directors to represent them with SGBI in 1981-82. When all directors were elected in 1980, they drew lots to see who would serve a one year term and who would serve two years. Therefore half of our present board is going off at the end of our fiscal year at the last of March. Give it some thought as this will be your voice for the next two years.

The Junior Santa Gertrudis Association officers and directors met during the Dallas State Fair and voted to go to Jackson, Mississippi for the next National Junior Heifer Show to be held June 8-10, 1981. The Delta Santa Gertrudis Association is trying to get heifers donated for class winners as well as cash prizes. This is a good opportunity to get your cattle in the hands of some top showmen. See if you have one good enough and contact the Delta Association. See you down the road....

Crossbred cow with Santa Gertrudis-sired calf

Performance-Tested Santa Gertrudis Bulls

Two Santa Gertrudis bulls, both similar in appearance, were bred to random groups of crossbred females. But Bull #507 had averaged 4.11 pounds/day on gain test, Bull #506 only 2.57 pounds.

Calves sired by #507 weighed 31 pounds more at weaning. His heifers weighed 78 pounds more as yearlings. His steers gained faster in the feedlot and weighed 73 pounds more as yearlings.

Over four years, at 80¢/pound, #507's calves would return $3,968 more than #506's. Sold as yearlings at 60¢/pound, they would return $7,008 more.

Bull #507 would sell to a commercial breeder for $1,500, Bull #506 for $750. Figure it out. Performance-testing: it's more than meets the eye. Complete data on request.

13th Annual Bull Performance Test Now Underway

October 21 was the official starting date for the thirteenth annual bull performance test sponsored by the Noble Foundation. Seventy-eight registered and commercial bulls of various breeds and crosses were received October 1 and processed, after verification of strict entry requirements. The bulls will be maintained and ranked within these divisions throughout the 140-day test. Only the top two-thirds of the bulls in each division at the end of test will qualify for the sale on March 21, 1981.

All bulls were fed the same free-choice ration during the 21-day warm up period. The warm up allowed the bulls to adjust to the ration and the change in environment. Early in the feeding period the ration will be changed gradually until a 55:15 concentrate to roughage ratio is attained. The ration will continue to be fed free-choice throughout the test.

At 28-day intervals the bulls will be weighed individually. Beginning with the second weigh period (66-day, December 16, 1980), progress reports will be compiled and made available to consignors and other interested parties.

Ten of the 24 Texas and Oklahoma ranches represented at this year's test are consigning bulls for their first time at the test. The 24 senior and 64 junior bulls include Angus, Brangus, Charolais, Gelbvieh, Limousin, Polled Hereford, Simmental, Simbrah, and Chianina x Angus (F1).

The Noble Foundation invites all inquiries about the bull performance test. For information, contact Wayne Dobbs, Test Manager, Agricultural Division, Noble Foundation, Route 1, Ardmore, OK 73401.

U.S. milk production totaled 123.6 billion pounds in 1979. This is the highest national total since 1965, says the USDA.

National Pinzgauer Sale Dates Set

Wharton, Texas — The Southwestern Pinzgauer Association has made final arrangements with John Joyce, World Sales, to manage three upcoming National Pinzgauer Sales. The first sale is the National Sale to be held in Denver, Colorado on January 23, 1981 during the Nation Western Show. The second sale will be the National Pinzgauer sale held in Shreveport, La. on Feb. 8, 1981 during the Louisiana State Fair and the third sale is the National Pinzgauer Sale held in Houston, Texas on February 27, 1981 during the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo.

Nomination forms for these three sales will be mailed to prospective consignors by October 15, 1980. Consignments will be selected by a screening committee and only animals of the highest quality will be accepted.

For further information regarding these three sales you can contact: Gary Arnold (Rt. 1 Box 126, Jefferson, Texas), W. J. Sparks, III (Box 2083, Victoria, Texas) or John Joyce, World Sales (Rt. 2 Box 232, Wharton, Texas 77488) or you can call AC 713/657-2212.

"This test should provide some interesting information on Pinzgauers and how they compare with other steers in the areas of rate of gain, feed conversion and cost of gain, grade and yield, and the bottom line — their profitability," Kellert said.

Shorthorns to Sell Saturday at Cushing

The First Annual "Sooner Shorthorn Selection" will be held Saturday, November 22, 1980 at the Agri-Civic Center in Cushing, Oklahoma. Show and parade of cattle will commence at 9:30 a.m. with Marshall Stauffer of Madison, Kansas, serving as show judge. Auction of the cattle is scheduled to begin at 12:30 p.m.

Featured will be an outstanding selection of Beef Shorthorn cattle from leading breeders in Oklahoma and Kansas. Consignments include cow-calf pairs, serviceable bulls and show heifer prospects. A number of excellent show steer prospects will also be offered from these renowned Shorthorn herds.

Semen from outstanding Shorthorn bulls will be sold, with proceeds to go to the Oklahoma Junior Shorthorn Association.

A banquet and fall meeting of the Oklahoma Shorthorn Association will be held at Steer Inn in Cushing at 7 o'clock on Friday evening, November 21. Sale headquarters will be the Wilshire Inn in Cushing, ph. 918-225-1800.

Catalogs are available on request from Kahoa Cattle Services, sale management, Rt. 1, Cheyenne, OK 73828 ph. 405-928-2795.

Free Brochure on Reduced Dosage of Strain 19 Vaccine

Austin — A Brochure explaining details of the reduced dosage of Strain 19 vaccine for brucellosis control is now available from the Texas Animal Health Commission. Dr. John Holcombe, executive director, TAHC, said response to the first announcement of the reduced dosage has been "extremely favorable." The reduced dose is a victory for the entire Texas livestock industry in its efforts to control brucellosis, Dr. Holcombe said.

Strain 19 vaccine has been used in the program for years. But the oil strength of Strain 19 was blamed for causing some animals to be diagnosed as having the disease when, in fact, it was a reaction of the vaccine itself. The reduced dose is as effective as the stronger dose. "The reduced dose will help eliminate confusion over the question of whether an animal has field strain brucellosis infection or whether the reaction is due to the vaccine," Dr. Holcombe said.

The reduced dose has also brought change in vaccination ages; they are now set at 4 to 12 months for all breeds. "Living able to vaccinate animals with 12 months of age with much less worry about false reaction to blood tests is another great advantage," Dr. Holcombe said.

The vaccine is free. Livestock producers should contact their veterinarians or TAHC offices in the area for complete details. One of the goals of the TAHC is to raise the immunity level in cattle so that 70 percent of the adult herd is vaccinated. This is the level judged by experts to significantly reduce the disease. The brochure titled "Free Brochure on Reduced Dosage of Strain 19 Vaccine" is available by contacting the Texas Animal Health Commission, Box 12900, Austin, TX 78711. Copies will also be available at area TAHC offices and county agent's offices as well as county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service offices.

USDA Approves A New Vaccine Against Calf Scours — Vicogen™

Kansas City, Mo. — A new vaccine against bacterial calf scours, caused by E. coli, has received approval from the USDA. The announcement that the new vaccine, Vicogen™, will now be available in the U.S. was made October 1.

Vicogen is the first product for the new U.S. company, Connaught Animal Health, Inc., explained that the introduction of Vicogen was the culmination of a long effort by many people in research laboratories and in clinical research. "Connaught had been privileged to work with the Veterinary Infectious Disease Organization (VIDO) in Saskatoon, Canada, in the development and the marketing of Vicogen."

The production of Vicogen is described by Don P. Metzgar, Ph.D., Vice President of Operations at the Connaught Laboratories, Swiftwater, Pa., as "a rather straight forward bacterial fermentation process. It goes through fourteen production steps." Dr. Metzgar pointed out that the production of Vicogen is at present Connaught's top priority in order to provide a significant quantity of vaccine for the 1980/81 calving season.

Gordon Boylan, D.V.M., Director of Technical Services, Animal Health Division, Connaught Laboratories, Ltd., Canada, tells the method by which the vaccine is used. "The vaccine is given, not to the calf, but to the pregnant cow. The dam develops antibodies in her bloodstream and these antibodies are concentrated from her blood into the first milk (colostrum). When the colostrum is ingested by the newborn calf, the K99 antibodies provide protection to it through those critical first few days of life." Dr. Boylan emphasized that calf scours "can be severe in spite of treatment which is often expensive and ineffective. Prevention is, therefore, a more intelligent approach to the problem." For more details and research results, write to: Mr. Earl Yerxa, Connaught Animal Health, Inc., Box 15923, Lenexa, Kansas 66215.

"ENERGENETICS" — Efficiency For Today's Corn Production

The entire country is feeling the squeeze of inflation and rising energy costs but none so keenly as the American farmer. Because he is so dependent on energy, he must be very cautious with it in order to survive in the 80's.

Northrup King has developed the ENERGENETICS™ program. It's designed to provide the corn grower with the hybrids and the management guidelines for maximum energy efficiency in his corn operation. Jim Hurst, Corn Product Manager for Northrup King, explains further: "We feel farmers in the 80's need to be more aware of energy costs and our job as seedsmen is to help them become more energy efficient."

"The thrust of the ENERGENETICS Program is towards developing hybrids that are more energy efficient for the 80's. At NK we've stepped up our research efforts in the areas of fast dry down, early planting, cold tolerance/early vigor and minimum tillage. We are alerting growers to the long term nature of the energy problem and helping them develop good, energy efficient practices."

A free 16 page handbook is available explaining the ENERGENETICS Program plus helpful charts, formulas and tips for profitable harvesting. Corn growers wishing to get the book should call, TOOL FREE, 1-800-828-2498, or contact Northrup King, P.O. Box 959, Minneapolis, MN 55440.

New Grain Sorghum Hybrids Show Consistent Performance

Agrow Seed Company's three newest grain sorghum hybrids, Colt, Corral and Mustang, offer growers consistent yield performance.

Colt, a new yellow endosperm hybrid, yielded 10,188 lbs. per acre in Burlington, Colorado state tests, and 9,408 lbs. per acre in a state test at Saunders County, Nebraska. This full season hybrid is especially adapted for use under good moisture conditions. It is greenhouse tolerant with moderately open heads of bronze grain with good threshability characteristics. It is tolerant to Races 1 and 3 of head smut, MDMV and demonstrates excellent standability.

Mustang, a medium-late maturity hybrid, is best adapted for areas with adequate moisture. It has bronze heads, good standability and tolerance to Races 1 and 3 of head smut and tolerance to MDMV. It yielded 9,240 lbs. per acre in a state yield test at Greeley, County, Kansas.

Corral, a medium maturity hybrid, consistently performs well under limited moisture conditions and growing stress. It is tolerant to MDMV and Races 1 and 3 of head smut. The drought-tolerant hybrid has large bronze grain and good threshability. In two years of tests in Kansas and Nebraska, it averaged 6,198 lbs. per acre.

In addition to offering a broad selection of sorghum hybrids, Agrow Seed Company, a subsidiary of The Upjohn Company, produces and markets hybrid corn and branded soybean seed. See your Agrow Seed Dealer for further information.

Massey-Ferguson Offers New 30 Ft. Pickup Reel

Massey-Ferguson announces the availability of the "U-11" pickup reel in a 30 ft. width. The reel also is available in widths from 13 to 24 ft.

The lightweight "U-11" reel incorporates an anti-wrapping flipover action with an open, "see-through" design. Aluminum tubing is used for major components, with 1-in. square tubing for reel spiders and rectangular tubing for reel bats.

The high-strength reel is designed for increased compatibility with the reel lift and hydraulic systems. A rigid 8 in. steel center tube prevents center sag.

Since the reel bat is of one-piece construction, bearings on the ends of the reel spiders do not make a full 360-degree circle. Instead, the bat oscillates back and forth during each turn of the reel. This reduces wrapping on the reel bat ends and at the spider/bat joints. Reel and shields are standard equipment and further reduce any tendency to wrap.

The open "see-through" design of the reel, coupled with the flipover action of the bats, allows the combine operator to see the entire cutterbar and avoid field obstructions. The reel's construction also facilitates cutting next to levees, fence posts, and brush.

The sturdy "U-11" pickup reel contains fewer working parts than other reels and is quicker, easier and cheaper to assemble and repair, MF says.

For information on Massey-Ferguson Tractors and equipment call or write to: Hatcher Tractor Co., 4812 East Loop 820 S., Ft. Worth, Texas, phone 817-428-1800.

Grasshoppers are threatening to invade 6.5 million acres of rangeland in Texas this summer, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The grasshoppers will begin swarming in late May and early June, which promotes grasshopper diseases and fungi—collected with the hatch, or if a warm spell fools the hoppers into hatching early.

Ear Tattoo with Numbers And Letters You Can't Lose

Most of you stockmen have ear tattoo outfits, but usually numbers or letters are missing and when you need to tattoo cattle, your equipment fails. This can't happen with the Franklin Rotary Tattoo because the digits are attached in endless chains — four chains with digits 0 through 9. It is the only endless-chain tattoo manufactured.

The Franklin Rotary Tattoo can be ordered with combinations of numbers and letters. As many as 9,999 combinations of four digits can be tattooed. For added versatility, each chain has two blanks that can be replaced by either letters or numerals to accommodate herd profiles or other coding systems.

Numbers or letters are placed in the desired sequence by turning the chain wheel with a slight thumb pressure. The digits snap into perfect alignment and there can be no lost digits or upside down numbers because digits are not removed or replaced.

The Franklin Rotary Tattoo is a valuable tool for every veterinarian and stockman. Available wherever animal health products are sold. Franklin Laboratories, P.O. Box 22395, Denver, Colorado 80222.

New Hose Reel For Stock Enclosures

A unique concept in loose coil hose reels, particularly appropriate for use in horse stables and dairy barns, and other stock enclosures, is now available from The Zierden Company of Oak Creek, Wisconsin.

The container mounts on a wall and keeps hose stored neatly without clutter or kinking, yet the hose is connected and instantly accessible for use at all times. This makes for safer conditions because tangled hose is never underfoot. The hose is fed through the top of the revolving container and coils neatly around the center spindle. Installation is simple, accommodates both hot and cold water supplies.

MF Brochure Describes Four-Wheel-Drive Tractors

Maxey Ferguson's four high-horsepower four-wheel-drive tractors — the MF4900, MF4880, MF4860 and MF4800 — are described in a new 16-page brochure.

The newly introduced 375-hp-horsepower MF4900 features a 90-cubic-inch turbocharged Cummins engine. The 320 hp MF4880 also offers a Cummins turbocharged engine, the 265 hp MF4860 is equipped with the same Cummins engine in a naturally aspirated version, and the MF4800's engine, also a Cummins, provides 225 horsepower.

An electronically controlled three-point hitch is available on all four tractors. This hitch automatically adjusts to soil conditions, faster and more accurately than mechanically controlled hitches to provide positive position control, full draft control or a combination of the two. No other four-wheel-drive tractor sold in North America offers this option.

A fully independent 1,000-rpm PTO is available on all four models. Constant-mesh, pressure-lubricated 18-speed transmissions with three-speed shift-on-the-go are standard equipment on all four tractors.

Copies of the brochure are available from MF dealers. Natives who beat drums to ward off evil spirits are objects of scorn to smart American motorists who blow horns to break up traffic jams.

New Container Fits Needs of Grower, Dealer, Custom Applicator

Growers, dealers and custom applicators will have Dual herbicide in a new 90-gallon plastic container this spring. The container, made of high-density polyethylene for extra toughness, will be available everywhere Dual is sold.

The container was tested in Ohio last spring. Ciba-Geigy, manufacturer of the herbicide, says the plastic drum saves time, is easier to handle than larger steel drums, and less of a disposal problem than smaller cans and jugs.

Dick Reynolds, the chemical company's packaging/application development group leader, says the containers won't rust, scratch or dent. "The drum is light enough (18 pounds) for someone to carry one in each hand," he explains. "We envision that the polyethylene containers will someday replace the steel drum for agricultural chemicals because of its lightness and durability."

A forklift can carry two 30-gallon containers at a time by simply engaging the forklift tines through the top handle. Or, the two tines can be pushed together at the bottom to handle one plastic drum. A dolly also conveniently moves the container.

Growers can dispose of the containers by burning. Dual, used for weed

Beat Drought Fallout, High Winter Feed Costs By Worming Cattle Now

The effects of this year's drought make it particularly important for cattlemen to worm their cow-calf herds this fall in order to save money in feed costs this winter, say Extension and industry experts.

"The drought that has hit a large area this year will significantly reduce the quality of available pasture, so cattlemen may have to rely more heavily on expensive supplemental feed," says Dr. B. L. Moseley, Extension veterinarian at the University of Missouri. "And because internal parasites restrict digestion, it will be more important to clean them out so cattle can use available feed more efficiently."

Dr. Moseley adds that the entire herd, both calves and cows, will benefit from treatment.

"A worm load adversely affects the growth of younger cattle," he says. "And calves are more likely to be infected in the fall than at any other time of year because they have been on pasture most the summer."

On-going research begun in 1976 by the University of Tennessee confirms the benefit of worming. In one group of field trials, 83 suckling calves treated with thiabendazole (TBZ) paste each gained an average 14 pounds more than untreated calves over a 105-day period.

"For cows, fall is probably the best time to worm because you can clean out internal parasites before calving," says Dr. Robert Miller, senior technical advisor for MSD AGVET, a division of Merck & Co., Inc., and manufacturers of TBZ.

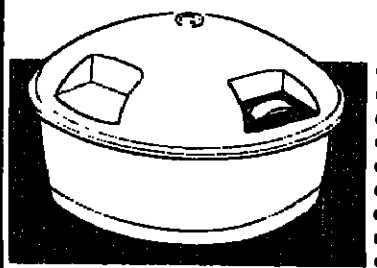

"Typically, the cow must make it through the stress of winter to calve, come into estrus, and then wean a heavy calf."

Dr. David Bedell, Extension veterinarian at the Georgia Rural Experiment Station, recommends worming each time cattle are moved or worked for health programs.

"Cattleman dehorn, castrate and vaccinate calves in the fall, and cows are often pregnancy checked. As long as the animals are in the chute, you can save labor if you worm them at that time," he says. "And here in the Southeast, herds will be moved to winter pastures soon. Treating them for internal parasites before they move will help keep the new pastures clean."

"Cattlemen should consult their veterinarian to determine the level of parasitism in their herds," notes Missouri's Dr. Moseley.

New Site For Texas Polled Hereford Bull Test

With the delivery of 50 Polled Hereford bulls to the Central Bull Test at Amarillo, Texas, the nation's oldest bull test is back in operation. The Pan-Tech all-breds bull test was begun in 1951, but was discontinued in 1977. This year, the Texas Polled Hereford Association needed a bull test facility and Texas Tech University agreed to re-open the Amarillo station. The Texas PHA formerly used Howard Payne University's bull test facilities in Brownwood, but began looking for another place when the university phased out its agriculture department. Weighed on test October 27-28, the bulls will complete the 140-day gain test March 14-15. The performance-tested Polled Hereford bulls will be consigned to a Texas PHA sale following the completion of the test.

The Texas PHA formerly used Howard Payne University's bull test facilities in Brownwood, but began looking for another place when the university phased out its agriculture department.

Dear Mr. Gouldy:
Thank you for the results of the poll of your readers.

It certainly appears that these were far more accurate than any of the national polls, including A.P. Harris, etc., all of whom were insisting up to the last minute that the election was too close to call.

Congratulations!

Dear Mr. Gouldy:
I wanted to thank you for sending me the results of your recent poll. As Mississippi State Chairman of the Reagan for President campaign, I was delighted with the results of the Presidential preference portion of your survey.

As a Member of Congress for eight years, I was also interested in the results of question #9 regarding higher farm price supports and question #18 regarding wage and price controls. These views of your readers should be highly informative to all Members of Congress and Senators.

Thank you again. If I may be of assistance to you at any time, please do not hesitate to call on me. With best wishes, I am

Dear Mr. Gouldy:
During this period of Congressional adjournment, Mr. Roussetot is working out of his District Office in Arcadia. He has asked that I reply to your letter of October 29th in order to avoid any delay. The Congressman appreciates the poll tabulation.

The Preference Poll results will be helpful to the Congressman as each of these issues is presented either in committee or on the floor of the full House. The majority of the American people let their views be known on November 4th and I know that Mr. Roussetot looks forward to the 97th Congress with great optimism.

Thank you very much for your letter of October 29 and enclosed results of a poll you conducted in "The Weekly Livestock Reporter."

In retrospect, it is interesting to note that the very concerns your constituency voted on were key issues that determined the landslide victory for Governor Reagan. Your predictions were clearly on the mark and I am optimistic about the new direction our country will be taking under the Reagan Administration.

At Gainesville

Gainesville, Texas — The North Texas Hereford Association's annual sale and the complete dispersal of Troy Woolf's Attraction Herefords at Bowie will be held Tuesday, Dec. 2, 1980, with a show of the cattle beginning at 9 a.m. and the sale at 1 p.m. in the Gainesville Auction Co. here.

Auctioneer Cecil Ward of Gainesville will be selling 78 bulls including herd bull prospects and registered females; 46 registered Hereford female lots; and 25 commercial female lots. These lots include lots from bulls and 20 females from Attraction Herefords.

Attractive Herefords' bulls include JWL D4 71.0, a 68-inch bull three years old that is service sire on some of the cows and has five calves in the sale; AHF 90 calves in the sale; and a 190-pound, a bull that weighed 90 pounds and was 47½ inches tall at seven months, and weighed 180 pounds and was 51 and three-fourths inches tall at 12 months; a plus six half-brothers and three half-sisters in the sale; and LC Miss Adv 2551, a daughter of HH Advance A482, a bull that sold for an average of $24,600.

Each American farmer is now producing food and fiber for 65 people. That's up dramatically in the past decade, rising from 47 people fed by each farmer in 1970 according to Perry New Holland. The latest USDA figures indicate 46 Americans and 65 people are eating the food produced by each member of our farm labor force.

The slump in consumer spending should not affect demand for food, chicken and wheat products.
